There was a time when you could simply wrap up the goods and deliver them in yesterdays newspaper. Not today. In this day of "guaranteed delivery", you want your product to arrive safely, whether that's to Aunt Sophie across the country or home to the Missus on the 5:43 local to Chappaqua.

Masking, stationery, carton sealing, safety, specialty tapes. If it closes, we've got it. If it seals, we've got it. If it sticks, we've got it. At a price designed to give you attractive margins, and keep your customers' overhead down.

In fact, we've been manufacturing and supplying fine supply houses like yours since just about the time Uncle Max above opened his bakery (well, maybe not so long, but sometimes the Missus makes it feel like it's been...)
